Captain's Log, Monday May 11th 2020.

These are voyages of the Starship Chamber, with its five-minute mission to boldly go somewhere...

Well that was quite a different weekend for many reasons. From a Chamber office it was busy and whilst the oddest of Liberation days, we hope and trust you managed to mark the 75th appropriately and safely.

At Chamber, the draft guidelines came through at 8pm on Thursday evening just as we were kicking back into the hammock with a cool glass of something. You will have seen, we got you the late late update before the break. With much to discuss we were very grateful to Senator Farnham for accepting our invitation to meet with some of our Chamber members in the hospitality industry on Liberation Day itself, to hear their feedback. Everyone, including the Minister reported it was a very useful meeting. And as we had expected, the order to move to Level 3 was signed on Sunday and we managed to get the update out to our members on Sunday afternoon. All things to keep us on our toes and you best informed.

We now see that some al fresco dining has been permitted – clearly the weather forecast for this week has other ideas. At least I can invite 5 friends around to socially distance in the garden, this requiring a garden, a wind break, strong umbrella and more importantly 5 friends!

The regulars among you know I occasionally plant some song lyrics in to brighten up these updates, so imagine my surprise when today, on enquiring of availability for a Zoom meeting, the response came back “In the style of your updates, and in the works of Shakira – Whenever, wherever, we're meant to be together, I'll be here, and you'll be there, And that's the deal, my dear” ... well, I'll not be able to look at that gentleman, who is senior financial institution leader, in quite the same way again... and moving on... so to the news:

Last chance to complete the Covid-19 Business Impact Survey

Grant Thornton, in association with the Jersey Chamber of Commerce has produced a survey to measure the impact COVID-19 on local businesses and the self-employed. It seeks to determine how local businesses have adapted in the face of this crisis and their plans for the future, post crisis. The survey can be accessed HERE

Cancelled Golf Day

The Jersey Mencap Charity Golf Day scheduled for Friday 15th May this year has had to be cancelled.

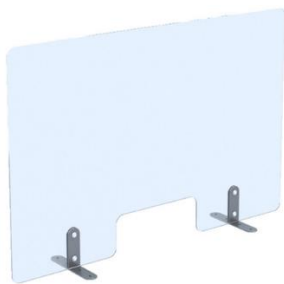

After 5 successful years of this event, it has come as a blow, especially as 2020 is Jersey Mencap's 60th anniversary. That said, we know there will be brighter times ahead and as the Chamber chosen Charity for the past year, we know they'll be back next year brighter than ever!

Help

Screens

Our friends at PBS have kit to help with re-opening - with safety measures in place including free-standing clear acrylic screens that offer the security of a physical barrier, yet maintain light levels and visibility.

Food & Drink

Liberation day may have passed, but Afternoon Tea might just be a perfect treat for you or a superb gift for someone else. Our friends at Randalls are offering a mighty fine spread of sandwiches, scones + jam and cream, macaroons, mini cakes tea bags and 50cl of Chardonnay. TO ORDER please call The Farm House on 861697 or order online at food.je

The Farm House can also write a personalised message on the box for your loved one too, just let us know when placing your order!

Talking of food, time to go eat, because clearly, none of us has over-indulged have we??

Stay safe, spend locally and stay in touch with each other and Chamber
