Thursday May 7th 2020

What-ho my old update readers - look at us getting all posh and sponsored!

Welcome to the new look nightly update sponsored by valued members Le Gallais & Luce, we are very grateful their support, thank you Paul and the team.

It's been a mighty busy day, ensuring lots of businesses are getting out as much info as we can muster from various sources for them and also receiving huge amounts of emails giving us info and feedback on where they are and what they are doing. We know that announcements will be on Monday regarding the details and guidance for moving to Level 3 of Jersey's Safe Exit Framework – so we will sit tight until then. The framework is best explained from here:

Thursday Chamber Webchat

Thank you to all who joined Alexia McClure for Jersey Business, Huw Thomas from Carey Olsen and Richard Plaster from Law at Work – who were our advisors for our webchat earlier at 4pm today – a really good session looking at the possibilities, practicalities and pitfalls of re-opening.

Over 10,000 households complete Household Health Survey

Over 10,000 households have completed the Household Health Survey, which was launched by the Government of Jersey to establish the spread of COVID-19 in the Island. Of this total, 4,000 households completed the survey following a text message sent to Islanders on Saturday 25 April. This means that over 19,000 individuals have taken part.

A local shopping experience from home - Well played Romerils and M3D

M3D announce the launch of a virtual shopping experience that offers a way out of lockdown. As Jersey's high street retailers struggle in the present Coronavirus crisis, one local store has fully reopened – in virtual reality. Thanks to innovative repurposing of existing technology, online shoppers can now visit a perfect 3D version of Romerils' Dumaresq Street store, wander through its showrooms, browse goods on display and even purchase them. It is rather clever - Read more at <https://lnkd.in/g7S9rT6>

A word from our sponsor

Where there's a will there's a way

Temporary legislation is now in force to permit the signing of wills and other documents by video link during the covid-19 pandemic. At Le Gallais & Luce we appreciate that people still need to plan their affairs during this difficult time. For more information on the new provisions please contact a member of our team on 760760 or to find out more about Le Gallais & Luce please visit our website at www.lgl.je

Finally thank you, nightly update readers, for keeping up, staying in touch and generally being really very supportive of the Jersey Chamber of Commerce. I've been looking through our archive at Chamber HQ and it is pretty incredible that we've been there since 1768, from involvement the corn riots and the establishment of the democracy we have today, we were there through the First and Second World War, assisting the businesses and Governments of the day, including the occupation of Jersey and onwards through the seventy five years since. On moments like Liberation Day, it's a good time to reflect thankful we are to those who've been in any frontline for us, how lucky we are to be in Jersey and how resilient we are as an island.

Stay safe, spend locally and enjoy the VE day and Liberation Day time... now where is that beer?

Ah! Yes...

Murray
